The Brooklyn Murder.

The shocking murder of Hamilton in Brooklyn on Thursday night is made more revolting by the discovery of missing portions of the body in a swamp on the outskirts of that city, where they were placed by the murderer Krotz, and by him pointed out yesterday to the police authorities.

Preparing for the Babcock Case.

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—Upon the opening of the United States court this morning, the attorney for the Western Union Telegraph Company appeared with a motion to vacate a writ of subpoena duces tecum from the Government upon William Orton, president of the company, requiring him to produce all dispatches which have passed between General Orville E. Babcock, at Long Branch, and General McDonald, John A. Joyce, or [illegible] at Ripon, Wisconsin, over various lines during several months of last year. The company set up an answer that the demand was too general and would require an immense amount of labor. Any intention to impede justice was disclaimed, but it was asked that dates and descriptions of messages be given with the [illegible]. The point was argued during the morning and taken under advisement until the [illegible].

On reassembling this afternoon, Judge Dillon granted the motion on the part of the W. U. Telegraph Co. to set aside the subpoena duces tecum. Mr. [illegible] then addressed the court and stated that after consultation between the counsel for the government and for the defendant, it had been agreed that the government would withdraw the sixth count in the indictment against Maguire, charging him with conspiracy to defraud the government, and that the defendant would enter a plea of guilty as to the remaining five counts, charging him with neglect and dereliction of duty in not reporting to his superior officer the supervisor of the [illegible] certain irregularities of the distillers. The counsel further stated that when Maguire took charge as officer, he was unused to the duties surrounded by difficulties unforeseen, and influences more powerful than himself. These difficulties were, in a great degree, caused a neglect of duty. He was innocent of intentional misconduct and feels innocent yet except so far as he was controlled by the influences brought to bear upon him. He was under the control and subject to all the orders of General McDonald, [illegible] who was a member of the ring [illegible] he never received a dollar by the conspiracy which has been unearthed. District Attorney Dyer reiterated Mr Voorhees statement as to the action of counsel, and said the government accepted the plea of guilty as to the counts charging neglect of duty and abandoned the sixth count, charging conspiracy, and added: It is due Maguire to state that so far as the government is concerned we have been unable to trace the payment of any money to him as to a member of the conspiracy. The court agreed to this arrangement and a nolle prosequi was entered as to the conspiracy count, and a plea of guilty entered as to the others. It is understood Maguire would furnish the government with information relative to the conspiracy here and elsewhere not yet brought out in evidence and he will, no doubt, be a witness in the other cases. It was then agreed there should be no change in Maguire's bonds and the court adjourned.

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—It has been agreed between the [illegible] and accused by the court that none of the jurors selected for Maguire's trial shall be drawn for Babcock's case. The remainder of the venire will be drawn and ten new men will be summoned. The trial will begin on Monday next.

Sentences for Crooked Whisky Business.

Indianapolis, Feb 1.—In the United States court this morning, the following named parties for crooked whisky operations, were sentenced by Judge Gresham to two years' imprisonment and a fine of $1,000 each: Philip Showire, [illegible] Simon and David R. Lewis, Harrison Miller, Wm. Mum[illegible], Hiram B. Snyder, Alfred M. Metcalf and John B. Phillips. Jack [illegible] three years in the penitentiary and a fine of $1,000. Thomas Robb one year in Gibson county jail and a fine of $1,000. Henry Jacques, Christopher O'Connor, John F. Crisp, [illegible] Reilly, each six months in the Gibson county jail and a fine of $500. George Hogan six months in the Vanderburg county jail and a fine of $500. The passing of sentence on J. W. Bingham has been postponed.

Showing Their Scars.

Indianapolis, Feb 1.—In the U. S. court this morning, several of the prisoners in the whisky cases, before sentence was passed, pleaded honorable wounds and faithful service in the army and various other reasons in mitigation. Judge Gresham admitted the unpleasantness of his duty but could not allow his sympathy to make him forget the crime they committed. He drew a decided contrast between officers of the government and distillers. The former are trusted servants in the pay of the United States, while the latter are not trusted but are watched by the government; therefore the former ought to have increased punishment. He then announced that these officers, who had betrayed their trust should have two years in either of the penitentiaries they might prefer, and pay a fine of $1,000, each. Then followed the case of Jas. K. Hill, deputy revenue collector. He protested his innocence before God and the world. The judge in sentencing him to three years in the penitentiary and $1,000 fine remarked that his crime was of a deeper dye because of his high position in the government employ. In the case of Col. W. Bingham, Col. [illegible] stated to the court he had a couple of affidavits showing that Bingham's wife was in a critical condition and the sudden shock to her nervous system might prove fatal, and the further fact that the government officers in New York wished Bingham's affidavit in other cases. He therefore asked a delay in passing sentence.

The Judge replied that since these facts had come to his knowledge he had thought much about what was best to do. Although there would be [illegible] clamor for Bingham's sentence, he thought as a question of humanity the sentence ought to be deferred. Bingham recently lost a brother who no doubt had died of remorse. The government could afford to wait a few weeks before passing sentence and he was perfectly willing to take the responsibility of postponing it for the present.

Hotel Burned.

Cairo, Ill., Feb 1.—A fire at [illegible] o'clock this morning, totally destroyed the Grand Central hotel, owned by H. A. Thomas and kept by Wm. Winter. The fire is supposed to have originated in the [illegible] from a defective flue. Loss on the building about $6,000; insured for $3,000. Loss on furniture $1,000 or $1,500; insured for $1,000.

Fire at Wallace.

Denver, Feb 1.—The round house and three locomotives of the Kansas Pacific railroad at Wallace, Kansas, were totally destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $70,000.

Life Insurance Company Dead.

Memphis, Feb 1.—The Avalanche says in the U. S. circuit court to-day a petition in bankruptcy was filed by the Southern Life Insurance Co. [illegible] schedule of assets and liabilities has not yet been made out, but the liabilities are alleged to be about $1,1[illegible].

Prohibition Ticket.

Hartford, Conn., Feb 1.—At the [illegible] of the Prohibition party at Middletown to-day, the State ticket of last year was renominated [illegible] D. Smith for Governor, Jesse Baldwin [illegible] Governor, R. [illegible] Fowler secretary of state, [illegible] treasurer, D. Carrel [illegible] National Convention [illegible].

A Man Kills his Father, Mother, Wife and Himself.

[illegible] Feb 1.—A special from [illegible] says that Silas W[illegible] killed his father [illegible] ax and then cut his wife's throat [illegible] himself. His wife was [illegible]. It is supposed [illegible] insanity [illegible] most horrible. His father and mother were respectively 73 and 77 years old. The immediate cause of the affair was an altercation with his wife who in altering a pair of overalls had made them too short. After some short and angry words Whitney started for the shed saying he would get the ax and end the trouble. His wife followed him out and seized the ax, when he drew a dirk and stabbed and left her for dead, and then taking up the ax he started for the father who had followed him and struck him [illegible] through his head. At this point [illegible] further infuriated [illegible] the [illegible] killing her with ten full blows over the head and breast. Leaving her in the [illegible] he turned to the [illegible] and [illegible]. His father had crawled into the kitchen and struck him as he lay upon the floor [illegible] through his head and reaching [illegible]. He then cut his throat and [illegible] at once ran to the barn [illegible] his neck and jumped from a [illegible] breaking his neck. The father and mother [illegible] both dead. The wife it is thought may recover.

Church Property in Rhode Island to be Taxed.

Providence, Feb 1.—The House of Representatives passed without division a bill providing that land occupied or owned by churches, schools, colleges and charitable institutions shall no longer be exempt from taxation.

List of Churches for the Advisory Council.

New York, Feb 1.—The list of churches called to the advisory council to be held in Plymouth church February 15th has been completed. It comprises 171 churches situated throughout the United States also some of the most noted ministers without charge.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

Washington, Feb 1.—Sherman, from the committee on Finance, reported adversely on the bill introduced by Bogy early in the session authorizing the payment of duties on imports in legal tender and national bank notes; put on the calendar with the adverse report at the request of Bogy.

Hamilton from the committee on public lands reported adversely on various petitions and the joint resolution of the Michigan Legislature asking for the passage of a law to give soldiers of the late war $200 in money in lieu of bounties and the committee discharged from further consideration.

Hamilton suggested that the committee on finance was the proper committee to consider the subject and on motion of Christiancy the papers were referred to that committee.

Maxey, from the committee on postoffices and post roads, reported favorably on the Senate bill to establish certain post routes in Texas; passed.

Oglesby from the committee on public lands reported favorably on the Senate bill to establish a land office in the southern part of Utah Territory to be known as Beaver [illegible] district; passed.

Sherman from the committee on finance reported back the concurrent resolution proposing [illegible] of coins and accounts between the United States of America and Great Britain and [illegible], with reasons why it should be passed, and asked that the whole matter be [illegible] committed to the committee on finance. It was so ordered. He also reported from the same committee favorably on the House bill to extend the time for stamping unstamped documents; passed.

The Chair laid before the Senate a request from the Treasurer of the United States asking permission to have access to certain quarterly accounts of the Treasurer on file in the Senate for the purpose of correcting an error therein; the request was granted.

Ingalls said on Thursday last [illegible] three days, the Senate passed a bill in relation to the rights of pre-emption and homestead settlers on railroad grants. Last evening a member of the House of Representatives called on him at his quarters who [illegible] had not been forwarded to the House for action by that body. Upon inquiry at the clerk's desk, he (Ingalls) was informed that a Senator had entered a private request that the bill should be retained in the Senate in order that he might enter a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill had passed. He (Ingalls) raised a point of order as to the right of any Senator to make such a request.

The Chair (Ferry) replied that the usage of the Senate had been to retain the bill not longer than two days to allow a motion for reconsideration if any Senator desired to do so. The rules of the Senate allowed the detention of the bill for such a purpose. He directed the Senator to read the 20th rule which provides that a motion to reconsider shall not be in order unless made within two days after the passage of the bill and that such motion can not be made after the bill left the Senate.

Sargent, of California submitted a resolution instructing the committee on rules to consider and report as to the expediency of so amending the rules as to require the Secretary of the Senate at the request of one or more Senators who voted in the affirmative on any bill or joint resolution not to transmit to the House of Representatives such bill or joint resolution until time for reconsideration shall have passed; agreed to.

Oglesby presented a petition of citizens of Illinois asking the repeal of the specie resumption act and the substitution of legal tenders for the National bank circulation; referred.

The pending question being on the amendment by Sargent providing that certificates heretofore issued by boards of auditors including those converted into 3.65 bonds and those which have not been so converted and certificates hereafter to be issued by the board of auditors and their successors in office shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of $15,000,000 and the question being on the amendment of Sargent above quoted it was agreed to.

Kernan submitted an amendment providing that any further issue of 3.65 bonds under or by virtue of said act of Congress, approved June 20th, 1874 is hereby prohibited.

Sargent said by the amendment just adopted the certificates already issued could be converted into these bonds.

Kernan said he did not think Congress should allow another bond to be issued. These certificates should be looked into and if any had been issued wrongfully they should not be paid.

Sherman said under the law as it now stands these certificates were convertible into 3.65 bonds.

Logan said he did not understand how it was that the Senator charged that these bonds had been issued in violation of law and yet be willing to pay them.

Eaton said he agreed with the Senator from Illinois (Logan) if there had been a violation of law then the United States ought not to pay interest on the bonds. Congress should go no further in this matter until it was thoroughly investigated. [illegible] had been [illegible] the government [illegible] to protest. The government had been protested on 10 millions every day in the year. If what the Senators said was true there should be an examination and he therefore moved that the Senate adjourn and gave notice that to-morrow he would move to refer the whole subject to a committee for investigation.

Eaton then yielded to Mr. Paddock and on his motion on a vote of yeas 30, nays 29, the Senate went into executive session.

When the doors reopened Eaton gave notice he would not submit the resolution in regard to the life and public services of the late Senator Ferry to-morrow, as he announced last week, on account of the absence of his colleagues in the House who had gone to Connecticut with the remains of Mr Starkweather.

Adjourned.

House.

Pierce from the committee on commerce reported a bill granting an American register to the Hawaiian bark A[illegible]. After a protracted discussion the bill passed.

Goodin from the committee on public lands reported a bill providing for the sale of Kansas Indian lands.

The morning hour having expired the bill went over to the next morning hour and the House took up as the special order the proposed amendment to the Constitution reported by the judiciary committee, which is that no person who has held or may hereafter hold the office of President shall ever again be eligible to such office. In this proposition Kasson offered the following as a substitute: From and after the 4th of March 1885 the term of office of the President and Vice President of the United States shall be six years and any person having been elected to and held the office [illegible] shall be ineligible [illegible]. [illegible] gave notice that he would call the previous question Wednesday at the expiration of the morning hour. The House then adjourned. A [illegible] was then announced for this evening.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Apprehensions of Difficulty with Cuba.

Chicago, Feb 1.—The Tribune Washington special says a prominent naval officer says to-night that the action of the Navy Department during the last few days fully justifies the apprehensions of difficulties with Cuba. It is certain that stores and munitions of war and supplies of all kinds are being rapidly concentrated at our new naval depot at Port Royal. We have a formidable squadron there under command of Rear Admiral Leroy. It is announced among naval men that this squadron is to execute a series of manœuvres within a few weeks under the [illegible] of Captain Stephen [illegible] commanding the frigate Hartford [illegible]

Mexican Border Troubles.

The Secretary of war has transmitted to the House of Representatives the information [illegible] the special committee on the Mexican border troubles in response to the request of that committee copies of the reports and correspondence in 1874, 1875 and 1876 relative to the troubles on the Rio Grande frontier [illegible] which the report [illegible] at [illegible] post of sufficient force to give complete protection to the [illegible] border from the mouth of the river to Laredo and [illegible] between Laredo and Fort Duncan [illegible] where there is no protection while intermediate to the general service, the force necessary in their opinion being two full regiments of the best class of mounted troops with infantry to garrison the [illegible] stations; the general of the army reports as follows: I doubt the possibility of preventing raids across the Mexican border from Brownsville to Eagle Pass [illegible] miles, but they may in great measure be prevented by increasing the strength of the companies on the frontier. Congress by simply authorizing the President at his discretion to enlist [illegible] company serving there [illegible] enlisted men could meet the [illegible] more economically than by any other course possible. The [illegible] regiment of infantry say the 11th or the 24th with a regiment of cavalry, the 8th, and a part of the 10th thus increased would suffice. I am convinced that a single company of 100 men is more efficient than two of the present small companies. The only cavalry regiment that could be sent to the Rio Grande this winter would be the third now on the Union Pacific railroad and that would leave this road exposed to the raids from the Sioux who are always mistrusted.

Quartermaster General Meigs.

The Secretary of War has replied to the resolution of the House calling for copies of orders and instructions under which Quartermaster General Meigs is acting during his absence from the United States from which it appears that the President directed that General Meigs proceed to Europe on special service, inspecting and reporting on foreign armies. He was allowed 18 months for this purpose from June 1st last. It was expected he should make the staff department the subject of his investigations, particularly the quartermaster's department, and make such suggestions and recommendations as in his judgment might be of value in adding to the efficiency of the U. S. army. He was allowed the full pay and allowances of a brigadier general inclusive of fuel and quarters, in kind and in quantity at the rate and under the regulations at Washington for the time, also actual expenses of travel and hotel bills. He was accompanied by an aid de camp with full pay and allowance and also a quartermaster's clerk with a salary of $200 per month and all incidental expenses.

National Banks with Small Capital.

Washington, Feb 1.—The committee on finance of the Senate has referred to the controller of the currency for an expression of his views on the bill to authorize the formation of national banks with a capital as small as $50,000, without restriction as to the population of the places where they may be located.

Public Debt Statement.

The public debt statement for January shows a reduction of $1,209,155. Coin in the treasury $7[illegible]; currency in the treasury $11,[illegible]; coin certificates $31,661,400; special deposits, legal tenders $10,000,000; outstanding legal tenders $371,2[illegible].

Nominations.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate: Commissioners of police for the District of Columbia, Wm J Murtagh, Henry M Sweeny, James G. Berret, Charles H. Nichols and Wm. H. Smith, being the present board.

Confirmations by the Senate.

Washington, Feb 1.—The Senate to-day confirmed the nomination of Wm Sanborn, of Michigan, as secretary of Arizona Territory; C. W. Darling, Indian agent, Fort Berthold, Dakotah; C. G. Belknap, Indian agent, Tule river, California.

Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee will hold a meeting to-morrow and organize for the Presidential campaign. The president, secretary and other officers of the committee will be elected.

Democratic Caucus.

Washington, Feb 1.—The Democratic Caucus was held to-night continuing till a late hour, Representative Lamar in the chair, and Representative Banning secretary. 160 members were present. The chairman announced the congressional campaign committee heretofore ordered as follows: Representatives Clymer of Pennsylvania, Chairman, Chapin of Massachusetts, Throckmorton of Texas, Hooker of Mississippi, Robbins of North Carolina and Sayler of Ohio. W. W. Corcoran, [illegible] Harney and Judge Mason are members on the part of the District of Columbia. The Senate appointed as part of the committee Senator White of Meriland, Wallace of Pennsylvania and Gordon of Georgia.

The chairman of the caucuses also announced the committee on consultation as follows: Representatives Cox of New York, Whitthorne of Tennessee, Randall of Pennsylvania, Goode of Virginia, Buckner of Missouri, Wigginton of California, Hartridge of Georgia, Blackburn of New York, Tarbox of Massachusetts, Lynde of Wisconsin, Eden of Illinois, Payne of Ohio and Caldwell of Alabama.

Landers of Indiana introduced his resolution declaring for the repeal of the specie resumption act.

Payne of Ohio offered as an amendment his resolution favoring resumption and opposing both inflation and contraction but setting apart a per centage of gold coin as the preliminary means to resumption. He supported his proposition in an hour's speech and much interested his auditors.

Bright supported Landers resolution and Holman expressed his views in favor of substitution of U. S. notes for national bank paper. No action was taken on the pending propositions which are reserved for further consideration.

Final Action on Indian Losses Claims.

Washington, Feb 1.—The House committee on Indian affairs to-day took final action on the question whether or not they should recommend an appropriation to satisfy any claim for losses caused by Indian depredations. The committee decided to report adversely on all such bills and petitions referred to them, taking the ground substantially that the government is not liable to pay for Indian depredations either out of the general treasury or the Indian trust fund annuities. Representative Lane of Oregon voted against this report of the rest of the committee, and will submit a minority report contending that the government is bound in one way or another to pay well established claims for losses occasioned by the acts of its Indian wards.

The Sick Man Took His Dose.

Constantinople, Feb 1.—The Austrian, Russian and German ambassadors communicated orally Count Andrassy's note to the Porte yesterday. Those of other powers at the same time declared that their governments saw nothing in the proposal contrary to the treaty of Paris. The Porte promised to examine the scheme and acquaint the powers with the decision.

The French Mission to Egypt a Failure.

London, Feb 1.—The mission of M. Outrey to Egypt for the purpose of fostering French influence is regarded as a failure. The Times' Cairo letter says M. Outrey interfered between the Khedive and the English and French capitalists who are competing in the negotiation for further advances to Egypt. The Khedive inclines to the English, but wishes to conduct negotiations on a purely commercial basis and select the party offering the best terms. This displeased M. Outrey and there has been a consequent disagreement with the Khedive.

Eminent Methodist Divine Dead.

The well known Methodist divine and author Jabez Burns is dead.

Why Brodsky was Sent from Moscow.

Moscow, Feb 1.—The Gazette [illegible] of this city is informed that the reason of the deportation of the merchant Brodsky is that he was the author of alarmist letters and dispatches to Berlin and London having the object of depreciating Russian stocks and raising the price of wheat.

Report Concerning Prince Milan Contradicted.

Vienna, Feb 1.—The [illegible] correspondent of this city is authorized to contradict the statement which has been [illegible] in circulation in respect to Prince Milan's supposed dissatisfaction with the present state of affairs and his intention to resign. There is nothing in the present condition of the country to justify serious alarm or extreme measures at this time. There have been struggles for control as between the political parties, but they left the position of the dynasty entirely unaffected. [illegible]

Prof. Tyndall about to be Married.

London, Feb 1.—The Weekly [illegible] says that Prof. Tyndall will shortly marry a daughter of Lord Claud Hamilton.

Russian Troops Sent to Turkestan.

A Berlin dispatch contains the following: The St. Petersburg [illegible] newspaper says the Russian authorities in Turkestan having 4,000 men insufficient to suppress the rebellion have asked for immediate dispatch of 4,000 reinforcements to Tashkend. According to the latest advices from Kashgar the insurgents have been joined by Kashgar soldiers calling themselves deserters of Yakoob Beg's army, while the Ameer of Bokhara has gone to Shahrisabz, where he is collecting troops. His presence there has excited an armed rebellion in the neighboring territory of Zerafshan.

Letter from San Sebastian.

The Times this morning publishes a letter from San Sebastian from which we glean the following [illegible] between the Royalists and Carlists in the north of Spain. The movement by the Royal forces towards Vera on the 24th of January was only a feint to cover the real attack on Cantabria, the only point the Carlists have held on the Cantabrian coast west of San Sebastian since the commencement of the war. General Moriones returning to San Sebastian embarked two battalions of troops which landed at Guetaria before daylight on the 25th. These immediately attacked and captured the heights of Garrabamend which commands the town of Zarautz. The Carlists fled almost without firing a shot. It would be difficult to overestimate the importance of this movement. It may facilitate the completion of the Guipuzcoan campaign and renders necessary the abandonment of the Carlist position from which they bombarded San Sebastian, and opens an easy route, whereby General Moriones may advance into Biscay, threatening Durango and other Carlist centers to form a junction with Gen. Lomas forces now advancing from the direction of Bilbao. Thus Gen. Moriones' movements have commenced most favorably.

Carlists Losing Ground.

San Sebastian, Feb 1.—Advices received here announce that Gen. Martinez Campos is advancing into the heart of Baztan valley driving the Carlists towards the mountains of the frontier. A great panic is said to prevail among the Carlists at Vera and other points on the Bidassoa river.

Things about The Dalles moved on about as usual during the late freeze up in the river. Matters appear, from the local papers, to have been remarkably quiet. The measles, scarlet fever and such small things are attracting some attention in that locality.

A Prineville correspondent, writing under date of January 20 1876 informs the Tribune that one Charles Reed, a youth of only 18 or 19 years, has had an examination before Justice Allen and was held to bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of the circuit court of Wasco county to answer to the charge of larceny.

The Dalles Mountaineer of Saturday last says: Mr William Barger, driver of the Canyon City stage became lost on the top of the Deschutes hill on Saturday night last in a snow storm while coming this way and remained quietly in one place until daylight came to his assistance, when he drove along without further accident. He was dressed warm and did not suffer much from the cold.

At a recent meeting of the Union County Agricultural Society, the vote being cast for officers R J Rogers, Ben Stanton and J. T. Hunter were declared elected as directors, Mr Snodgrass as secretary and Mr Sterling treasurer. A resolution highly complimentary to the retiring officers, was unanimously adopted and on motion of Mr Sterling the former officers of the society were granted permission to attend all future county fairs with their families, free of charge.

EMIGRATION TO THE FAR WEST.

Emigration to the Pacific Coast States of California and Oregon, from March 1st to end of December, 1875 has been very large and still continues like a great ocean wave. Those who have passed through Omaha, Nebraska on emigrant trains alone number in the aggregate, as shown by the official record of the Union Pacific Railroad company fifty three thousand and two hundred souls. During October 4,025 persons went out, 3,223 in November, and 2,775 in December. The month of August makes the smallest show in numbers being only 1,972—of these 1,040 were natives or Americans, 277 Irish, 193 Germans, 110 English, 17 French, 22 Scotch, 21 Italians, 96 Portugese, 27 Chinese, 8 Swiss, 12 Swedes and 8 Norwegians, which is about the average for each month.

Many thousand persons have also gone to the Pacific coast during the last year by sea and on first and second class cars—of which the number is not given, as many of them were tourists, who have since returned, while those who went out on emigrant trains went to stay, and now constitute a portion of the permanent population of California and Oregon; while from some of the Western States recently devastated by the ravages of grass hoppers, Texas, Missouri, Kansas, etc. thousands have gone the old way, crossing the plains and Rocky Mountains with ox and horse teams, requiring from three to six months to make the journey. More wagons having crossed the plains this year than any previous year since the completion of the Pacific railroad. Of these an estimate was made rather than actual count and it was found that 6,000—averaging two persons to each—wagons were en route to Oregon, principally farmers with their families and little all under canvass. They are now without doubt permanently settled upon the productive agricultural lands of Oregon, a State which, with a population of 90,923 in 1870 had 1,116,290 acres under cultivation and has not experienced a single failure in its crops for the thirty years it has been settled and cultivated.—Boston Transcript.

Fast Walking Horses.—The best gait a horse has is the fast walk. A slow walking horse is an abomination. Who has patience with such a horse? If you ride him or drive him he exhausts your patience. If he is used to plow or harrow or go on the road he mopes along at a snail's pace. He does only about half the work of a rapid walker. If time is money you make money because you save time by having a horse that walks fast. Breeders should pay attention to this matter. In selecting a stallion to breed from by all means select one that can walk fast. A slow walking stallion will be likely to get slow walking colts, while the stallion that has a long, rapid spirited stride will be likely to beget colts with a similar action. Then there is a great deal in breeding to a horse with spirit and ambition. These cold blooded horses will beget cold blooded [illegible]. The nearer you can approach the thoroughbred even to obtaining a fast walker the better. There is gone the [illegible] spirit and endurance and stamina and style. [illegible] bony heads, the prominent eyes [illegible] smaller [illegible] the cup of the nostrils, the large lungs and chest, the well developed muscle, the bones as dense as ivory. Even for walkers then get the nearest to the thoroughbred possible and the same holds good and of course the same for runners. You have, then horses fit for any company, and for any purpose—to haul the plough or buggy or carriage, or to carry you upon their backs. Breed large fine mares to thoroughbred horses and you will get colts that you will not be ashamed to have your friends see.—Rural World.

Antioch Distillery case given to the Jury.

The argument in the Antioch distillery case closed this morning. This afternoon the judge charged the jury dwelling somewhat strongly on the discrepancies shown by the books of the distillery and the fact of the duplicate use of stamps and instructing the jury that, unless these things could be accounted for on a reasonable hypothesis of honesty, they should find for the government. In closing, he stated that no such amount of proof was necessary, or would be required in a criminal action, and a reasonable preponderance of evidence would justify a verdict for the government. The case was then given to the jury. The interest in the trial increased as it progressed, and many were in attendance to-day. It is thought that if the government wins this case, many others will shortly be commenced.

Mr Crouch went down to the shore to secure it, but it had floated away.

Baker surrendered himself to the authorities. Both parties were of good standing in the community. Robinson has been in the employ of the Blue Ridge Flume and Lumber Company of this place as foreman at the mills for two seasons. He leaves a wife and several children.

THE OLDEST PIONEER.

Butteville, Jan 31 1876.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Of the few bold voyageurs who spied out this goodly land from thirty five to fifty years ago, few, very few indeed are now numbered among the living to behold the changes wrought by Time's relentless march.

Hon Donald Manson, Sr, the earliest pioneer now living within the original boundaries of the Territory of Oregon, is a native of Scotland, and was born April 6, 1800. He received a good practical education in the country schools of his native land, and was bred to the plow (upon his father's farm) until reaching his 17th year, when he entered the service of the Hudson Bay Company and sailed for America, reaching Hudson's bay in September, 1817. He remained on the east side of the Rocky mountains until 1823, when he received an appointment to accompany the exploring expedition of Mr. Black into the country now known as the Cassiar mining district. At the close of the labors of the expedition, Mr. Manson returned, by way of Peace river, to Lake Athabasca, and in the fall of 1824 received instructions to proceed to the Columbia Department and report for duty to Mr Chief Factor John McLaughlin, in charge at Fort Vancouver, where he arrived April 6, 1825. The ensuing summer he superintended the erection of Fort Langley, the first trading post established west of the Rocky mountains, north of Fort Vancouver, returning in the fall to the Columbia, where he remained until the spring of 1827, when two American vessels entered the river, the brig Owyhee and schooner Convoy, the former commanded by Captain Dominus, and the latter by Captain Tomson. Their object was to establish trade with the Indians. Mr. Manson was sent at once to occupy the post of Astoria for the purpose of opposing his company's new rivals in the traffic. On arriving at Astoria he found the Astor company's old fort so completely in ruins that for a time he was compelled to live in a tent. Two vessels belonging to the Hudson Bay Co., arrived annually from England, with supplies for the trade, and this year, 1827, one of them, the William & Ann, was wrecked on the bar. Every person on board perished. The cargo was likewise a total loss.

At the time Mr. Manson was in charge of the Astoria post, there were no white persons living on Clatsop Plains, nor anywhere on the lower river. Neither were there any domestic animals below Fort Vancouver. The Clatsop and Chinook Indians were at that day numerically in the full pride of their strength. The head chief of all the Chinooks, Comcomly, whom Washington Irving in his "Astoria" so graphically introduced to the world, glorified himself in being "monarch of all he surveyed." Yet his people, as well as the surrounding tribes, lived on terms of good fellowship with their few white neighbors and occasional visitors.

According to the late Dr John McLaughlin, the first great calamity which befell the Indians of the lower Columbia and Wallamet rivers, was the visitation of the plague which swept through those tribes in the fall of 1829, with such frightful mortality as almost to depopulate entire villages.

In the spring of 1829 Mr Manson was appointed to accompany Mr Chief Factor Ogden to establish a post some distance north of Fort Langley, and which is now known as Fort Simpson. The following summer he succeeded in erecting a post in Mill Bank Sound, which he called Fort McLaughlin, and of which he remained in charge until 1839, when, after a most active and adventurous life of 22 years of valuable services, he was gratified to receive a leave of absence for 12 months, a respite which was most richly deserved after the long-continued and onerous duties he had so faithfully performed. In the spring of the last-mentioned year he left Vancouver and proceeded across the mountains to Hudson Bay, where he took passage for England, and without anything remarkable having transpired on the voyage in due time reached the desired haven. Arranging his affairs he proceeded at once to revisit his old Caledonia home, where he soon found himself surrounded by those endearing objects which brought most vividly to mind the fond recollections of his early childhood and youth. But time the final despoiler of all our earthly joys, passed pleasantly, but alas! too swiftly away, for the day now drew near when he was literally to realize in all its force that sentiment contained in these lines penned by Scotland's gifted bard:

> Should mem'ry [illegible] my heart shall write
> Those happy scenes when far awa'."

Once more he bid adieu to his native land and turned his face toward the wild [illegible] the [illegible] coast of America, reaching Vancouver in 1841. He was immediately appointed to succeed Mr Black, who had been shot by an Indian at Kamloops. In the spring of 1842 he was again selected to succeed another officer who had been murdered at Fort Stikine, and in 1844 he was appointed to the command of New Caledonia district, where he continued as executive officer to direct its affairs until the spring of 1857, when he resigned his commission and left the Hon Company to whose service he had devoted the best energies of his youth and mature manhood for a continuous period of more than forty years.

During a visit which he made to the Wallamet valley, soon after his resignation was accepted, he purchased from the late Dr Newell his donation land claim, situated at Champoeg, Marion county, to which he removed his family in 1858 and upon which he now resides.

Mr Manson, in person, is above the medium height, straight as an arrow. Though spare his frame is indicative of strength, and in every movement decidedly military in suggestion. His hair, under the snows of 76 winters is as white as the frosty pow of St Helen and Hood.

Mr. Manson is a member of the Oregon Pioneer Association. The question as to who is the earliest pioneer now living within the limits of the original Territory of Oregon having heretofore been discussed through the medium of the press that distinction, I believe was decided by those who engaged in that discussion in favor of Hon Solomon H Smith of Clatsop Plains who like Mr Manson came to the Territory under the auspices of a fur trading Co., Capt. Wyeth. Mr Smith is a native of Lebanon, New Hampshire, born Dec 26th, 1809 and arrived in Oregon Oct 29th 1832. Owing to the facts above stated it is deemed proper at the present juncture, in vindication of the truth of history, to give to the public the above synoptical sketch.

LETTER FROM PRINEVILLE.

Prineville, Ogn., Jan 25 1876.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

I will again attempt to give you a sketch of what has been passing in our village for the last few weeks.

The weather until the last five days has been too pleasant to stay indoors so the young men and boys of various times, have been exercising themselves running foot races and jumping in various ways. On the 10th inst. Light Howard while jumping one jump with a run, in the [illegible] start and broke the small bone of the right leg just below the knee, which put a stop to that kind of sport in short order.

About Christmas time it became known to some of our citizens that various little thieving was being done by some light fingered gent, but who the gent was had to be found out. Two gentlemen at Mr. Hodges hotel, one the proprietor's son and the other a boarder, James Kennedy, found on examining their pockets that they had been relieved during the night of what little change they had. Suspicion finally rested on one Charley Read, from Benton county. He was arrested and brought before the justice and had an examination. The evidence turned out strong enough to warrant the justice in binding him over to court in the sum of $500, in default of which he left here last Sunday morning for The Dalles, in charge of Mr James Howard, deputy sheriff for this part of Wasco county.

The last five days has been cold enough to make fine skating. No less than thirteen pair of skates are running on Crooked river this evening, among the number, two young ladies.

THE TERRITORIES.

During 1875 there were 1,192 arrests in Salt Lake city, including one for seduction.

The gay gamboliers are flocking to Cheyenne and the Black Hills from every quarter.

A number of persons have formed an association for building a seminary of learning at Dayton.

The voting population of Columbia county is about 800, and the taxable property amounts to $100,000.

The Denver papers don't take kindly to the Black Hills. They look upon the mines in that region as somewhat mythical.

The smelters and silver mills of Utah purpose giving the product of one day's run to swell Utah's exhibit at the centennial.

Patricio Baca, the most notorious horse thief in northern New Mexico, was killed in Chimayo, Rio Arriba county, last week.

Since the death of Mr. Hileman, late incumbent, business has been suspended in the register's department of the Vancouver land office.

We have received the initial number of the Dayton News, a small weekly paper published at Dayton, W. T., by James Kerby, publisher and proprietor.

Hon. N. T. Caton, of Walla Walla, addressed the Daytonites on Monday afternoon and evening, of last week, on the advantages to be derived from annexation to Oregon.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Dayton, W. T., Woolen Manufacturing Company, the following officers were elected: Trustees, A. H. Reynolds, Wm. Matzger, F. G. Frary and D. C. Guernsey; president, A. H. Reynolds; secretary and superintendent, F. G. Frary, treasurer, D. C. Guernsey.

The Rocky Mountain News says: A party of Indians in the northwestern edge of the Middle Park, came upon a herd of buffalo the other day, and killed them all—42 in number. All they saved were the skins, leaving the meat to rot. Such waste of the game of the country ought to be stopped, and the sooner the better.

A correspondent writing from Waitsburg, W. T., under date of Jan. 24th, says: The weather is moderately cold, the thermometer ranging from zero to 10 and 12 above. No snow of any account, hardly enough to make sleighing possible. Stock of all kinds is in good condition. Nearly everybody is in favor of being annexed to Oregon.

Alonzo Leland, Esq., President of the Rescue Mining Co., will start East in a few days. His object in going is to lay before the people there the facts in regard to the immense amount of mineral wealth lying in the district of Warren's Idaho, and to try to induce capitalists to invest their loose cash in developing it. He goes armed with facts and figures.

Orin Mason, who was recently killed on the Yellowstone by the Sioux, was one of the most finely educated among the young men of the West. He was an engineer by profession, a student well versed in the classics, having an intimate knowledge of Greek, Hebrew and Latin; filling important offices of trust, the last, clerk of the court of the first judicial district of Montana.

The Owyhee Avalanche of Jan. 17th says: "J. W. McCully arrived here on Thursday from Grand Ronde with 3,100 pounds of bacon, 300 dozen eggs, and a considerable quantity of lard, butter, etc. Mr McCully left Grand Ronde on the 27th of December, and was over sixteen days on the road. He reports the traveling very heavy from Miller's station 25 miles this side of Baker, to Willow creek, and was five days in getting over 27 miles."

The dirtiest man in Montana, Robt. Nelson, better known as "Mountain Dew," recently became heir to a property in Missouri to the amount of $50,000 by the death of his father. He formerly lived in Idaho, and in flush times, he got hold of $8,000, and to make sure of its preservation he sent it home to the old man to invest for him. The old man never informed him during his life how he had invested the money, but it seems that he had put it where it turned out well.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB 2 1876.

FIFTEEN MILLIONS WORTH OF NEGLECT

In the course of the debate in Congress the other day on the bill to pay the interest on the 3.65 bonds of the District of Columbia, a curious fact was disclosed. These bonds were for loans made to raise money to improve the streets and public grounds of Washington City and amount to something like $15,000,000. They were issued under the Shepherd government which was abolished by last Congress. The [illegible] upon which they are now urged to the General Government was clearly stated by Mr Dawes during the debate above referred to. He said

All agree that these 3.65 bonds were to all intents and purposes, government bonds. They have become part of the public debt of the nation. The monthly debt statement would hereafter, if it correctly stated the liabilities of the government, show there had been added a debt of $15,000,000. There are people in the country who will ask why it is in time of peace that $15,000,000 had been added to the public debt. They would look in the proceedings of the two houses of Congress for an explanation of this and there they would find that the law organizing these commissioners was passed without attention being called to the fact that a new debt would be created. They would find that in one House of Congress the chairman of the committee who reported the bill creating the board of commissioners said no obligation would be incurred. It took eight lawyers and two attorney generals to decide the question whether these 3.65 bonds were United States bonds or not. He believed the District commissioners had placed an erroneous construction upon the law which created them but he had the highest respect for their integrity

It is a little strange, it is true that it took eight lawyers and two attorney generals to decide whether these bonds were the bonds of the United States or not, if it is a matter so plain that all agree now that they are such. The opinion of eight lawyers and two attorney generals though certainly a pretty strong array of authority, —especially if it be assumed that the eight lawyers were men of great reputation and were not personally interested in so deciding—is not ordinarily sufficient to compel all to agree to its correctness, on a question so doubtful, that such an array is found necessary. Still it lends force to the argument of those who contend on that side of the question and might be decisive in a court of practice if not met by something like equal weight of authority on the other side. But the peculiarly stranger thing in this matter is that this vast obligation was saddled on the government through inadvertence and inattention, as Mr Dawes plainly says it was. What were the people's representatives and guardians about, to permit fifteen millions of the people's money to be captured at a single grab, through improvident legislation? That is a very large sum to be added to the burdens of a people already overburdened with debt. The inadvertence of the same Congress, which changed the postal laws in a most oppressive way, was not readily excused. What then will be said of this stupendous oversight?

PRIZE MONEY

Public sentiment will most likely incline to approval of the bill introduced in Congress by Representative Willis, of New York, abolishing the system of giving prize money to officers and men of the navy for the capture of any vessel or other lawful prize from public enemies. The reason urged in support of the bill is that it is a relic of barbarism and demoralizing to the naval service, and it is suggested that instead of promoting the efficiency of that arm of the public service, it tends in an opposite direction, because it presents a temptation which it is believed has not always been resisted, to delay the reduction of places besieged by sea or to make profit by the capture of vessels entering and departing. The suggestion that a similar system in the land military would convert armies into banditti is certainly not without force and pertinency. The moiety system in the revenue department, which is but another form of the prize-money custom has received unanimous condemnation, and the service has not, that we are aware of, suffered from its discontinuance. Still, there are cogent reasons for its retention in the navy, which are not applicable to the land service. The perils of the sea are added to the ordinary dangers of war and should be coupled with some suitable compensation. This, however might be directly given by increase of pay, reserving all prizes for the government, and thus avoid the division of motive in the breast of the officers and men of the navy between themselves and the government they serve. Extraordinary risks should be met by extraordinary inducements but these need not be made to depend on acts which might be barbarous in themselves and detrimental rather than serviceable to the public interests

A COCKNEY IN OREGON

In Belle [illegible] for Jan 1st 1876 there is an article over the signature "Plain Snaffle" entitled [illegible] which is noticeable for more than one reason.

Plain Snaffle is a ready writer who describes without regard either for truth or syntax both what he may have seen and heard and what he certainly never saw, however true it may be that he heard it. [illegible] stating that [illegible] he saw deer and bear hanging in a butcher's stall which [illegible] from Oregon. This [illegible] on a hunting trip [illegible] with a Frenchman named Francois. He says

We [illegible] at Portland [illegible] wonder [illegible] as we went ashore [illegible] for both prospecting and hunting [illegible] After going [illegible] We took off the skins [illegible] "Dead Man's Gully" [illegible] We found this secluded spot in a state of great excitement, owing to a visit that morning of the vigilance committee from Boise City. It appeared that a gentleman named Mike Sharp had in a playful mood "fired five into a crowd" at Boise, killing one man outright and wounding two others. As he had done the same thing two or three times before the V C went for him and sure enough the redoubtable Mike was dancing on nothing suspended from the bough of a tree rather a pleasing spectacle to view on first entering Dead Man's Gully. As far as I could see the members of the V C looked rather greater scoundrels than the rest. I have no doubt that they did a great deal of good [illegible] Boise City though occasionally their operations were attended with a considerable amount of personal inconvenience to innocent people. For instance at a large mining town in Idaho there was a man of the not uncommon name of Smith who had literally passed all bounds. He would keep on laying out people on the smallest pretext. They looked over his first half dozen or so as Smith always said that his feelings were so highstrung he felt out like and an enlightened citizen's feelings must be respected of course. But he allowed his feelings to be so highstrung one fine day as to put a bullet through the hat of Judge Saunders. The V C turned out but as he didn't actually make dead meat of the Judge they gave him twelve hours to quit. At the end of 11 hours and 59 minutes he mounted his horse and in a jocular way let fly three barrels at the sheriff to whom it appears he had a peculiar aversion and then bolted as hard as he could. This was ungrateful on his part and so they posted up in the town hall a notice "Reward 500 dols dead or alive in 10 days name Smith ordinary looking." Well the effect was that for ten days all ordinary looking men named Smith had the roughest kind of time of it in Idaho Territory. At last they strung up Judge Smith of Ruby City who was a prospecting alone and who happened unfortunately to be an ornery looking cuss and the reward was withdrawn. The best of the thing was that they never caught the real Smith as he was heard of some time afterwards temperance lecturing way down in Wyoming

A moderate amount of exaggeration is permissible to travelers. It does no harm for experience has taught us about what is the ratio of truth to falsehood in such tales. We listen to, or read, the accounts of their wonderful skill in shooting and in wood craft, of their courage in trying times and of their indomitable energy in overcoming difficulties which would have daunted ordinary men, and make the usual allowances. We are used to this, and, if the narrator does not ask too much of us, we enjoy his recitals and pardon his amplifications. But the absolute invention of wholly fictitious stories, we submit should be left to the professional novelists. We can forgive "Plain Snaffle" for such expressions as "We intended to have shot," and "the extraordinary amount of blackguards"—for he probably associated in Portland with men of his own kind and did not move in the proper circles to meet gentlemen and from persons of his class we do not expect a strict observance of the laws either of syntax or etiquette. Gratitude for kind treatment however may be looked for among even the least educated and refined, and when we read that Plain Snaffle received "numerous kindnesses at the hands of the hospitable Oregonians" we are surprised to find him vilifying them as he does. See what he says of the city of Portland,—it is what he says he witnessed on his return from "Dead Man's Gully"

On arriving at Portland, we found the V C with a "little affair" on their hands as usual. A noted desperado named Luke Tyler had suddenly turned up from Montana where he had narrowly escaped having his neck stretched. The V C in Portland waited on Master Luke and told him that they had no doubt whatever that he was a very promising young man, and an ornament to Montana society and had in fact been very badly treated there, but he couldn't stop in Portland City, Oregon, alive more than five hours. Unlike Mike Sharp, Esq Mr Tyler saw the situation, he stood gin cocktails to the crowd, saddled his mule, mounted, and taking off his hat with a genial smile said "Five hours to clear gentlemen" tell you I don't want five minutes, if this vere darned mule don't buck

Now we are sure that in describing these two scenes "Plain Snaffle" was drawing upon his imagination for time, place and incidents. There is no such place as "Dead Man's Gully" in Oregon. There never was a man named Mike Sharp hanged there, or elsewhere by a vigilance committee. If a vigilance committee had hanged a man who would probably have richly deserved hanging twice over "Plain Snaffle" could not have witnessed the act and could not have known who the members of the committee were. They would have been known only to themselves. And whether they looked rather greater scoundrels than the rest or not is a question which "Plain Snaffle" could never have had an opportunity for deciding

The statement he makes respecting the expulsion of Luke Tyler from Portland is equally untrue. It is not impossible that he may have heard some such stories as he relates, for here, as elsewhere men are to be found who take delight in stuffing credulous travelers with all sorts of exciting stories but he certainly never witnessed the things he writes so flippantly about

DEATH OF STUKELY ELLSWORTH

The sudden death of Stukely Ellsworth Esq is announced. He died at his residence, in La Grande after an illness of 48 hours his disease being congestion of the lungs. He had long been a prominent member of the bar, and was well known throughout the State. The Eastern Journal says truly

Mr Ellsworth was a man of superior intellect and fine social qualities. He was among the leading men of his profession at the Bar of this State and his death will cause a blank that will not be readily filled professionally and in social life. He manifested the most active interest in whatever of good work there was to do whereby the advancement and progress of Oregon could be in any way assisted. In truth his death may be regarded as a serious loss in this respect [illegible] more particularly in the eastern section of the State where he had already endeared himself to a host of friends and identified himself with all matters of public welfare

The motion of the Western Union Telegraph Company to vacate the subpoena duces tecum served on President Orton on behalf of the prosecution in the case of Gen Babcock is very suggestive. The subpoena requires the production by Mr Orton of all telegrams which have passed between General Babcock at Long Branch and General McDonald, John A Joyce or Mrs Joyce at St Louis or at [illegible] over various signatures during several months of last year and the motion to vacate the writ is based on the ground that the demand would require an [illegible] amount of [illegible] the production

The Law Quarterly [illegible] the January number [illegible] lawyers are [illegible] The Liability of Express [illegible] Common Carriers. There is an article on German Legislation which will be perused with attention by all who give any thought to the principles of political society. The digest of late decisions and the summary of events in the law for the quarter are full of entertaining matter

ANOTHER OPINION

The Philadelphia Times has its say on the amnesty debate and in the course of its remarks the case is put in this clever manner

Randall and Blaine have had a square parliamentary battle for the spurs of the House and Blaine has won them. True, he had great advantages. He is in the minority and had but to prod and dig and hammer at the Democratic citadel until it exploded itself. He had trained veterans under him and Randall had raw recruits but Randall should have measured his perils before he precipitated an engagement. It was Blaine's most important part to know when and how to talk, it was Randall's to know when to be silent—the most difficult of all human attainments. Blaine needed skill not prudence. Randall needed prudence above all things. Blaine had to attack and the more impetuously and recklessly the better for his purpose. Randall had to stand the fire on front and flank and he was not equal to it. His ranks broke, his men lost their self possession as was hoped by Blaine, and accepted a debate in which there was nothing but disaster for them. It was like marching a body of undisciplined volunteers against an impregnable battery from which the entrenched party could belch forth a storm of death while fully protected from the missiles of the assailants. It will not do to say that Mr Randall couldn't help it. He couldn't protect his men or keep them in line after they were once in battle but he never should have allowed a conflict that Blaine so notoriously invited. He should have remembered that silence is golden and not allowed a sword or spear of his followers to gleam in battle array. The contest on amnesty was ill advised and in every respect unfortunate. Amnesty is not a thing to be demanded by those who are to receive it for their people. It is the one thing to be proffered by the nation in obedience to the patriotic demands of the whole country and Mr Randall and General Hill had but to wait its coming and the fruit must have fallen in their hands, perfectly ripened by the fraternal feelings of the people

When the guilty revenue officers were brought up in the United States court in Indianapolis for sentence the judge took occasion to remark that of the revenue officers and the distillers who had conspired together to defraud the government, the crime of the former was much greater than that of the latter. All men should obey the laws but if there be any on whom this obligation specially rests they are the ones whom the government has specially trusted. These men when guilty should receive the full measure of punishment provided by law

CITY.

EMPLOYING CRIMINAL LABOR.—One of the wisest and most economical measures adopted by the common council, is the providing for working on the streets of those who have been committed to the city jail for violating ordinances. Several years ago the chief of police was authorized by the city fathers to employ some one to guard the prisoners while they were engaged in the useful avocation of cleaning the streets and cross walks and direct their movements etc. Charles Lawrence was appointed by Mr [illegible] to perform this work which he did to the satisfaction of all concerned for a long time. At length the common council declined to appropriate any more money for the payment of Lawrence and as he failed to see the point of working for nothing the prisoners were allowed to remain in jail and quietly serve out their terms of confinement. Finally it became patent to the members of the council that it was more economical for the city to pay some one to "exercise" these criminals than to allow them to remain in jail in idleness. There are a class of fellows who prefer to remain in jail all the time rather than to go out and earn an honest livelihood providing they are required to do nothing else but lounge about indolently and draw their rations with distressing regularity. Crime can be decreased more effectively by clothing it with all possible terrors—so to speak—and rendering its penalties odious and humiliating. Certainly nothing is more repugnant to the professional bummer and vagrant than to be compelled to labor in the chaingang. Labor is what they seek to avoid and their aversion to it is that to the city jail. Imprisonment and labor are not the most agreeable companions to such fellows, and they soon find that the way of the transgressor is hard. Yesterday we observed a number of these prisoners hard at work scraping the cross walks and improving the condition of the streets. They seemed to work very reluctantly and had but little heart in their labor. By finding employment for [illegible] worthless pests, we believe crime can be materially lessened for if it does not result in their reformation it will have the effect to drive them away to a more congenial climate.

A HUNGRY BURGLAR.—Monday morning about 2:30 o'clock the house of Mr Kafka, who does business at the corner of Front and Oak streets, was burglarized by a Chinaman. Kafka lives with his family up stairs over the store. At the hour named the oldest son of Kafka was aroused by the growl of a trusty watch dog, and presently he heard a noise which sounded like some one stepping about the house. The lad sprang out of bed and hastily lighting a lamp, ran into the kitchen from whence the noise proceeded. One glance settled the mystery, for on entering the kitchen, the first thing the boy saw was an old celestial in the pantry helping himself to cold victuals. The lad tackled the thief and called manfully for his sire to get up quick and help him, as a burglar was in the house. The old man rolled out of his drowsy couch and came valiantly to the son's rescue, and the prospects for the moment looked rather dark for the celestial to get away. John finding quarters were getting uncomfortably close drew a knife and prepared to engage in the dissecting [illegible]. When the boy saw the gleam of the murderous steel, he called to his father to look out as the thief was armed. When the old gentleman heard that, it quite overcame his brave resolutions, and preferring to faint rather than be chopped into mince meat at the hands of a burglarious heathen, concluded to swoon, which he did in a manner fully up to the tragical standard. Before he came to himself, the celestial had made his escape leaving as souvenirs of his friendly visit an old hat and handkerchief. Nothing else was missed, and the presumption is fair that the fellow was hungry, and as all the restaurants were closed at that hour he merely called in to take lunch. The front door was locked and it is supposed the Chinaman effected an entrance to the building through a back window. The identity of the thief has not been discovered yet by means of the articles which were left in his precipitous flight.

ASSAULT WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON.—An altercation took place Monday evening on the O S N Co's dock, in which the principal actors were Tom Bradley, runner for the St Charles Hotel, and a German named Orand Kuplar. Although a weapon was drawn and a shot discharged, it becomes our pleasant duty to chronicle the fact that no serious consequences resulted. Bradley, it appears had a difficulty with Kuplar about a month ago in a saloon, where the latter was officiating as a bartender. Some very uncomplimentary remarks were indulged in by the parties, but the row terminated without the belligerents' having recourse to the stern clash of arms. Bradley, supposing the difficulty was ended, gave no further thought to the altercation. Monday evening he chanced to encounter Kuplar on the dock who immediately renewed the quarrel. Both entered spiritedly into the row which culminated in Kuplar drawing a pistol and discharging its contents at Bradley. Fortunately the ball went wide of the mark and no one was injured. Kuplar was arrested on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. He gave bail in the sum of $250 for his appearance in police court this morning when a preliminary examination will take place.

FREEPORT GRANGE.—Mr J S St[illegible] writing from Freeport Cowlitz county under a late date, says: Freeport Grange No 20 meets on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month. We elected the following officers at our last meeting in December and installed at the last meeting in January: O P Gray, M; J Ontlawa, O; Jasper Stone, L; Edgar Stone, S; Henry Rogers, A S; H D Huntington, C; Fred Catlin, T; Adam Catlin, Sec; Ambro Patton, G; Mrs McCorkle, C; Mrs Jasper Stone, P; Miss Amanda Whittle, F; Miss Mary Smith, L A S. After the installation the W Deputy, J S Bozarth spoke a while for the good of the order which was very appropriate to the occasion. We then had a recess, when the table was spread and all the good things that could be desired to make a person enjoy a good meal was set upon the table, which we all partook of heartily. After the feast the table was cleared aside, and we had a splendid dance. The Freeport Grange numbers 51 members. They are wide awake and ready to do their duty. They all seem to work well.

A NOTE FROM "MOLALLA."—A gentleman writing from Molalla, Clackamas county under date of the 1st says: Our burg was thrown into a buzz on the appearance of the OREGONIAN of the 29th ult. Your correspondent pokes fun at our town by calling it "Fooleville" and says one horse hotel. [illegible] He should remember that we are just beginning, that tall oaks from small acorns grow. Our merchants are trying to furnish such articles as we need that we may not have to travel 12 or 16 miles through storms and mud. Our very accomplished saloon keeper [illegible] ly deals out the "one thing needful" for the inner man. Our part of the country has improved more in the last two years than in the five previous years. There are nearly as many OREGONIANS taken at our post office as all other newspapers combined.

POLICE COURT CALENDAR.—One hundred and one cases were disposed of in police court during the month of January classed as follows: Drunk and disorderly 28, [illegible] fighting 11, disorderly conduct [illegible] grants, 10, assault and battery, 3, drunks 9, larceny 5, violation of ordinance [illegible] resisting an officer 1, arson [illegible] concealed weapons 1, violat[illegible] nance 1, abusive language [illegible] of ill fame 1, obtaining property under false pretenses 1, fast riding 1, [illegible] house 1, assault with a dangerous weapon [illegible]

OCEAN TELFAIR.—The work of repairing the hull of the steamer Ocean Telfair is about completed, and that vessel will be brought up to this city in a few days. After arriving here the [illegible] work about the steamer will be repainted and repaired wherever necessary. The machinery will be overhauled (if such is found necessary) and the cabin refurnished. If the services of a pilot can be obtained, the Telfair will probably come up to-morrow. Before being sent to [illegible] the steamer will be placed in the best possible condition, both as to seaworthiness and passenger accommodations.

PASSENGERS.—Last evening at 10 o'clock the steamer Oriflamme sailed from this port for San Francisco. She carried hence a full freight and the following passengers: Geo Francis, Miss M C Taylor, Geo I Cole, Geo A Steel, Mrs Geo L DeFrans, L Warren, Prof [illegible] wood, H Turelson, G F Cramer, I King, Wm Morgan, F S Mabry, W I Koch, Mr I M Wall, Mrs Rogers, I J Hannay, Lobt M Farland, J W Becker, Alex Hamilton, Asa M Hamilton, W Kidder, John Hamilton and wife, Wells Fargo & Co's messenger and ten in the steerage.

UNFORTUNATE.—Yesterday we received a call from Mr Isaac Skeins, formerly of Van Buren county, Iowa but now of St Jo Yamhill county. When the freight house at St Jo was burned Mr Skeins lost all the property he had and [illegible] solicits some aid from the public. Being a carpenter and having lost all his tools he is almost helpless. He is quite an old man and we believe any assistance given him will be worthily bestowed.

ELECTION.—At the election of directors for the Odd Fellows Hall Association, held Feb 1 1876 the following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year: A G Walling president re-elected; C A Dolph vice president re-elected; Chas Hegele treasurer re-elected. Directors—E St John, Julius Kraemer, E D Backenstos, J H Lyon, A N Gambell, secretary, re-elected.

THE OLDEST PIONEER.—The Centennial year brings to the front the earliest inhabitant and we publish on our first page an interesting sketch of one whom we believe is the oldest living one; but before we can get into print, out comes the Journal last evening with a man who passed through Portland in 1719 and is spry and hearty yet. We give it up.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—At a regular meeting, Monday night the Independent German School Association elected the following officers: John Reisacher president, John Wagner vice president, Henry Bohlman secretary, Henry Weinhardt, treasurer, Adolph Burkhardt and Philip Hornung trustees.

BRIEF NOTES.

Yesterday was collectors' own day.

Sailed last evening the steamer Oriflamme.

Common Council this evening—regular meeting.

Verdure is putting in a modest appearance on the hills about the city.

Mr and Mrs W B Fain leave this morning for San Francisco via Tacoma.

The ladies of the Unitarian Society will give a Centennial entertainment on the 22d of February.

A considerable quantity of lumber was taken on board the steamer Oriflamme yesterday afternoon for San Francisco.

Sergeant Henry Fenton has succeeded Sergeant J E Evans, relieved at his own request as U S signal officer at this place.

Mr R A Habersham returned overland from the Dalles a few days since. He has been as far up as Wallula and went on official business.

Mail and express connection through to the Dalles again in consequence of which the public breathe more free and sleep a little sounder.

Ladies and Pastor's Christian Union of the Taylor street Methodist church will meet at 3 P M to day at the church. Business of importance will be transacted.

The lads and lasses are beginning to cudgel their youthful brains about the usual nonsensical love missives which are to be sent off and received on Valentine's day.

One would have been deluded into the belief yesterday that mild ethereal spring had come. It was the most lovely day of the year and seemed like a ray from heaven after a month's continued stormy weather.

The statement made to the effect that the sailor Fitzpatrick made his escape from Constable Perry, is we are requested to state, erroneous. That officer informs us that the sailor was not in his custody at the time.

Yesterday the steamer Idaho reached the Upper Cascades in safety bringing down a number of passengers considerable freight and a large quantity of mail and express matter. These were brought down to this city last evening on the steamer Bonita.

Since the closing of the Columbia above the Cascades the steamer Idaho has not been able to reach the Dalles but has been lying at Crate's Point five miles below. After coming down yesterday to the Cascades the steamer returned to the Point in safety last evening.

REV A L LINDSLEY D D—Dear Sir: Believing that in your lecture on Thomas Paine delivered in your church last Sunday evening you did gross injustice to the Author Hero of the Revolution not only as a patriot and religious reformer but as a man, and being willing to accept the challenge you then made, therefore we most respectfully invite you to attend at a review of your discourse, to be delivered at Good Templar hall on next Sunday (February 6th) at 2 o'clock P M. Should you deem it your duty to attend one half the time will be given you for self defense, if you desire it. Hoping that you will be bold in the defense of what you asserted to be true we remain as ever firm advocates of the truth.

RIVER AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS

High water still prevents the dredger from resuming operations along the channel of the lower Columbia. It is hoped that work will be commenced at St. Helens bar by the 1st of March.

It is the purpose of Col Wilson soon to have the reservation of the lighthouse at Shoalwater Bay enclosed by a neat and substantial fence. A person will be sent at once to select material for constructing the fence and work commenced in a few weeks.

The scows used in connection with the dredger which have been undergoing a complete overhauling below the city are about ready to be launched. Some repairs are being made to the dredger and in a few days the new hopper will be hung. Before the stage of water will allow a resumption of operations, the dredger and all needful appliances will be in splendid condition to render service.

The Government snag puller is still beached above Canemah and undergoing whatever repairs are deemed necessary. As but a small portion of the appropriation made last year remains unexpended (only about $1 500) Col Wilson does not intend to send the puller up the Wallamet until the regular season shall have arrived for operations unless in case of an emergency.

Work had been suspended by the contractors for the improvement of the channel of the upper Columbia when advices were last received from the scene of operations. But one more day's work remained to be done at Homely Rapids when the sudden rise of the Columbia rendered suspension necessary. That was on the 21st of January, since which time nothing has been received from Messrs Grant and Stone. As the river has been rising almost ever since, there is a strong probability that the work at Homely Rapids has not been completed. It was the intention of the contractors to commence operations next at Umatilla Rapids.

Col Wilson has recently received instructions from the department at Washington to allow the contractors for the improvement of the channel of the Upper Columbia—Messrs Grant & Stone—to continue operations after they shall have completed their present contract until the appropriation made by Congress for that special purpose is exhausted. After the completion of the present contract there will remain in Col Wilson's hands about about $10 000 of the original appropriation. He is instructed to allow the contractors to go forward and remove those obstructions which, in his judgment impede navigation most until this surplus sum is expended, provided of course that they are willing to do so. As the law prohibits Col Wilson from extending indefinitely the contract on the part of the government he is allowed to employ Messrs Grant & Stone at contract rates to perform the work.

Messrs P and F Paquet who were awarded the contract last year for building wing dams along the channel of the Upper Wallamet, suspended operations early last fall and probably will not resume operations for a number of months to come. Up to the time of the suspension of work only two wing dams were built—one at Union bar 400 feet in length and one at Lone Tree bar 1 130 feet long. The contract includes the construction of wing dams at the following points: 400 feet at Humphrey's Rocks, 400 feet at Long Crossing bar, 400 feet (also a number of snags to remove) at Buena Vista, 300 feet at Luckiamute, 100 feet at Santiam, 500 feet at Lower Fickels, 400 feet at Pine Tree Rapids, 300 feet at Bowers bar, 300 feet at Halfmoon Bend; total number of feet to construct 4 030. They are also required by the contract to remove 50 feet of old wing dam at Bowers bar, 25 cubic yards of rock at Rocky Rapids, and 50 yards of stone at Humphrey's Rocks. The time for the completion of the work is until the 1st of next June but as the stage of water in the Upper Wallamet will not permit of the resumption of operations until quite late the contractors have asked to have the time extended. Col Wilson has recommended that the time be extended to the first of next October.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Our "regular" under date of the 1st sends the following:

D and A A McCully have disposed of their meat market to Messrs Thompson & La Fore.

Maj Geo Williams contemplates opening a broker establishment in this city at an early day.

Gus Schwatka is feeling jubilant over a nine pound cherub of the female persuasion who made its arrival yesterday.

The young ladies have taken hold of a leap year party in dead earnest and it will probably take place on Valentine's evening, Feb 14.

Among the notable arrivals in the city we are pleased to see our old friend Major M P Berry on a short visit with family and friends. Also Jas A Sterling the wide awake postmaster at Oakland.

The State Woman Suffrage Association is announced to meet in this city on Tuesday next, Feb 8th at 10 o'clock A M. A number of prominent speakers have signified their intention to be present.

A bridge across the Willamette at this point is again exciting considerable newspaper controversy. Our folks continue divided on the question of its feasibility while Marion folks are united to a man regarding its practicability.

Yesterday being the fifty eighth birthday of our esteemed fellow citizen A A McCully Esq a number of his friends dropped in about dinner time to give him a surprise. His better half being posted—as the ladies usually are on such occasions—was prepared for them and a splendid dinner was awaiting them. Presents, poems and speeches followed, and a pleasant reunion was the natural result.

A C Drey book keeper in Ladd and Bush's bank in this city burned his hand severely this morning. He was lighting a kerosene lamp holding the match in his left hand, the lamp hanging above his head, when it exploded the burning fluid covering his hand and running to the floor below. It was with some difficulty he extinguished the flames, and his injuries will prevent him from pursuing his regular business for some days.

THE IRON HUB, IRON SPOKE WAGON

G R Duval, formerly of Salem, now of Oregon City, has invented new running gear for wagons which combines the strength of iron with a lightness less than that of wood. The patent issued March 19, 1872 is styled "improvement for wheels of vehicles." He experimented at Salem and built two such wagons about six years ago. A son of Ralph Geer Esq bought one of them, which is now run by [illegible] near Walla Walla. In April 187[illegible] he built several at Dayton, Yamhill county. Dr Johnson Esq, of Lafayette, has one buggy and Dr Littlefield also has one of similar construction. Hon J [illegible] of Marion county has one of the lumber wagons of this patent. [illegible] no doubt give information of its value.

One of the peculiarities of this improvement is that the iron rod which is the spoke acts as a tensile brace holding the weight by the head which is countersunk in the tire. Five iron spokes share the weight on the ends at every [illegible] of rest or motion. It is somewhat like the principle of the suspension bridge.

A second peculiarity is that the tap screws closely to the hub and locks the nut on the [illegible] end of the spoke and also protects the inside of the hub which is a double hollow iron cylinder, from wet and dirt.

To explain further: [illegible] hubs are double, that is the iron box is a hub provided with two central flanges and a wrought iron band. The double caps screwed closely hold the nuts of the spokes to their places and keep clean boxes. The weight of the model is 5 pounds. It bears up 625 pounds without bending wheel or axle. Two of us—weight of one 180 and of the other 195 pounds—stood upon it, and four persons have done it showing its marvelous strength. Mr Johnson's buggy wheels weigh about 100 pounds. Wheels weighing 380 to 400 pounds have a capacity of 2 500 to 3 000 pounds load. Those weighing 125 to 500 pounds per set have a capacity of 3 000 to 5 000 pounds load. A set of truck wheels sent to Messrs Miller & McCormick's Eugene City weighed 150 pounds. The axle was 2½ inches and the power on the street of 5 000 pounds but the weight should be 300 pounds for such trucks. Special care is now taken that the plate or cap is screwed on a good thread so as to hold firmly.

Mr Duval is a wagon maker by trade. He makes his own wooden felloes at present but these will in time be replaced with iron ones, when the proper machinery can be secured. He is now filling orders for two hack-wheel sets—one for Mr Ball, of North Yamhill and one for Mr Robinson, of Dayton, at $60 per set. The price of wheels finished is $60 to $80 per set, with 2 500 to 3 000 pounds power. Those with power of 3 000 to 5 000 pounds cost from $70 to $80. A two horse wagon has 14 to 16 spokes, a hack, 18, a buggy 20. Mr Duval finds that the advantages at Oregon City for this manufacture are the best he has seen. He is associated with J H Moore Esq, a well known machinist whose fine location and abundant water power just below the City Mills, afford every opportunity for machinery as well as convenience to get materials and ship off the products of the shop. Judging from a brief interview with Mr D the inventor of this improved wagon and an inspection of the model, and the wheels in the shop in process of construction the impression is made that a change will occur in the wagon business as this becomes generally known. Defects in the construction will be seen and corrected. More simplicity will obtain after trial. As iron comes to be cheaper as well as more durable than wood, the public will seek this light and strong vehicle.

It will interest visitors to the city to look into the shop and examine the model and specimens and the work. It will occupy but a few minutes and reward the effort to learn something new. Mr Duval and Mr Moore welcome and courteously answer all inquirers.

A new manufacturing interest always claims attention. One that will retain even a tenth of the money sent out of the State for wagons, will be a public benefit. One that promises to be a permanent industry teaching our boys trades, and giving workmen employment deserves encouragement.

A DISORDERED STATE OF THE BLOOD is the prime cause of many very troublesome complaints. Skin Diseases, Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Scurvy and Goitre are but a few of the many disorders arising from the depraved condition of the vital fluid. For diseases of this class Jayne's Alterative is a reliable curative by entering into the circulation it thoroughly purifies the blood and removes any morbid and acrid disease which may exist in the system. It at the same time sustains the strength of the patient and imparts vigor to the whole physical structure. To be satisfied of its efficacy read the testimony of those who have been radically cured by it, given at length in Jayne's Almanac.

No pearls do Asian swimmers raise

GOOD MANNERS.

BY RALPH WALDO EMERSON

'Tis a rule of manners to avoid exaggeration. A lady loses as soon as she admires too easily and too much. A man or woman, the face and the person lose power when they are on the strain to express admiration. A man makes his inferiors his superiors by heat. When need you who are not a gossip talk as a gossip and tell eagerly what the neighbors or journals say? State your opinion without apology. The attitude is the main point, assuring your companion that come good news or come bad, you remain in good heart and good mind, which is the best news you can possibly communicate. Self control is the rule. You have in you there a noisy, sensual savage which you are to keep down and turn all his strength to beauty. For example, what a seneschal and detective is laughter! It seems to require several generations of education to train a squeaking or a shouting habit out of man. Sometimes when in almost all expressions the Choctaw and slave have been worked out of him a coarse nature still betrays itself in his contemptible squeals of joy. The great gain is not to shine, not to conquer your companion—then you learn nothing but conceit—but to find a companion who knows what you do not, to tilt with him and be overthrown horse and foot, with utter destruction of all your logic and learning. There is a defeat that is useful. Then you can see the real and the counterfeit, and will never accept the counterfeit again. You will adopt the art of war that has defeated you. You will ride to battle horsed on the very logic which you found irresistible. You will accept the terrible truth, instead of the solemn customary lie. When people come to see us we foolishly prattle lest we be inhospitable. But things said for conversation are chalk eggs. Don't say things. What you are stands over you the while and thunders so that I cannot hear what you say to the contrary. A lady of my acquaintance said "I don't care so much for what they say as I do for what makes them say it." The law of the table is beauty—a respect to the common soul of the guests. Everything is unseasonable which is private to two or three or any portion of the company. Tact never violates for a moment this law; never intrudes the orders of the house, the vices of the absent or a tariff of expenses, or professional privacies as we say, we never "talk shop" before company. Lovers abstain from caresses, and haters from insults while they sit in one parlor with common friends. Would we codify the laws that should reign in households and whose daily transgression annoys and mortifies us and degrades our household life—we must learn to adorn every day with sacrifices. Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices.

PLUMMER FRUIT DRYER.

AS A PROOF OF WHAT I HAVE HERETOFORE stated to the people of Oregon, I give below a letter from the Plummer Fruit Drying Co. of East Portland. After the close of business of 1876 fully endorsing it after using it one entire season and as a proof to substantiate what they say, they now contemplate putting up another Dryer of the same capacity of the one they now have which will increase their capacity to five hundred bushels of apples per day. Having now located here in Portland for the purpose of supplying the demand for Fruit Dryers in Oregon and Washington Territory I can supply these dryers at a cost of from $2,000 to $4 000 according to capacity. Warranted to dry from 8 to 16 bushels of apples per hour, at a small cost for labor and fuel. These machines being so cheap and simple in construction they cannot fail to supersede all other known machines. I would also say to the fruit growers that I have invented a Machine and am now waiting for a patent, that will cut and spread the fruit on the trays with a very small amount of labor. I also have invented a Peach Parer that is on an entirely new principle, paring soft as well as hard, does its work well with great speed, and slices and pits the fruit ready for the Dryer in the best possible manner and at a great saving in quantity of fruit.

FRUIT DRYER TESTIMONIALS.
EAST PORTLAND, Jan 4th 1876
MR W S PLUMMER—Dear Sir: As this is a time when all are much interested in Fruit Drying, we think that in justice to you and for the information of the public it is but right and proper that we should give all the information that we can. Now after having operated your Dryer during this season we feel warranted in saying that for the amount of [illegible] we do [illegible] believe as we did from the start that your Dryer is the best Dryer yet introduced into this country. The capacity of the Dryer we find to be about 8 (eight) bushels per hour. The Dried fruit we claim to be as good as any, though perhaps not so much bleached as the Alden Fruit and we are satisfied that we can produce Dried Fruit at less expense than the Alden. The stockholders of our company manifested their confidence in the Plummer Dryer at our meeting last Saturday by a unanimous vote to increase the capital stock $2000 (two thousand dollars) for the purpose of building a more Dryer [illegible] present [illegible] after improvements for next season. We will further say that we believe that [illegible] that there will be an increase [illegible] capacity and a saving of Fuel.

WHAT EGYPT WILL EXHIBIT

[illegible] EXHIBITS [illegible] CENTENNIAL [illegible]

The Khedive is the [illegible] of the Egyptian goods for the exhibition all of which have arrived at New York. The catalogue contains over [illegible] numbers. The first [illegible] agricultural products are from the Khedive's estates. In the collection are [illegible] weapons and ornaments from the barbarous tribes of the remote regions of Central Africa jewels inlaid work in ivory, precious metals rich embroideries produced by the [illegible] artists of Cairo a classified collection of the products of the valley of the Nile [illegible] 2,000 specimens [illegible] the cotton crops for the last eighty [illegible] the prices brought in Alexandria and in Liverpool, raw and refined sugar grains of all kinds hemp flax, doura, vetch sorghum lentils poppy seeds and [illegible] the woods of Egypt, in sections of trees [illegible] dates olives and other preserved fruit, tobacco indigo, cotton preparations perfumery, Arabian honey, specimens of marble and building stones jeweled fly-flappers saddles of embroidered leather and mounted with gold agricultural implements of the most inconceivable patterns books for the blind and drawings by the pupils in the polytechnic school. By way of contrast will be shown, side by side, ancient papyrus and the modern newspaper hippopotamus hide and calf skin chibouk and narghileh and the Parisian cigarette, and European porcelain and ancient red pottery. This enumeration is not a complete one as there is also a world of curious things from Soudan, Darfour Abyssinia and Uganda. All will be arranged in their respective departments at the exhibition, labels will specify their names and the localities whence they were obtained and a large map of Egypt will be hung up for reference. The Khedive has appropriated 500,000 francs to defray the expenses of making the collection, transporting it to the country and paying the [illegible] all of whom are in this city. But that the time was too short after President Grant's invitation the Khedive would have had a palace erected on the Centennial grounds like the one he had at Vienna illustrating the architecture and domestic life of the land of the Pharaohs

The local monetary situation is unchanged and offers nothing new that is important. The month past was one in which transactions generally were limited to the supply of temporary wants as far as merchants and traders were concerned, and this was easily done with the liberal available means on hand at the several city banks aided by resources outside. The regular monthly collections are being made, and are generally reported quite as free as usual, showing at least an average amount of money in general circulation. There are of course many instances where persons who do a sort of hand to mouth business, are pressed to meet their liabilities, but the rule, we rather think, is a promptness in settlement quite encouraging to the trade interests of the city and State.

Some drawbacks to business have been experienced in local circles since the year began as the heavy rainstorms making country travel except by rail, very inconvenient, the irregularity of ocean communication with San Francisco and the closing of the Upper Columbia by ice. The decline in the English wheat market has also tended to retard the breadstuff movement on this coast very materially and though exports have been quite as large as was anticipated the amount actually changing hands has not been as large, most of the vessels loaded having been overdue when the month began and their cargoes purchased and awaiting their arrival. But few vessels have been taken in January, and the number now due is much less than it was a month ago. Without a rapid movement shall set in soon it may be regarded as certain that a very large proportion of the surplus yet in the State will be carried over till another harvest which may or may not be a profitable policy for the holders but the effect of it upon general business is that it keeps so much capital out of circulation and gives a greater supply to the same demand another year. The quantity held over from the harvest of 1874 was much larger than the previous year, but was not as large as is promised this season unless the future shall develop circumstances to create an active market very late in the season.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

Present Liverpool wheat market quotations compare with those at a corresponding date in former years as follows

	Av California	Oregon
1874	[illegible]	13s 11d@14s 2d
1875	9s 3d@9s 6d	9s 9d@10s 2d
1876	10s @10s 3d	10s 6d@10s 11d

The stocks at the end of each of the last three years in the Liverpool market are placed at the following figures.

		Wheat	Flour
		qrs	bbls	sacks
Dec 31	1873	109 898	70 191	30 666
	1874	144 211	1 130	158 0 0
	1875	703 818	5 0 8	1126 2

A comparison of the stocks in hand at the periods given will throw some light on the present depressed condition of the trade. Other grain in the United Kingdom are reported as also largely oversupplied though on the continent there is not so [illegible] of a surplus and better prices are maintained.

WHAT EGYPT WILL EXHIBIT

CURIOUS EXHIBITS FROM THE LAND OF THE PHARAOHS — ANCIENT CONTRASTED WITH MODERN CIVILIZATION

The Khedive is the owner of most of the Egyptian goods for the Exhibition all of which have arrived at New York. The catalogue contains over 6,000 numbers. The best specimens of the agricultural products are from the Khedive's estates. In the collection are curious weapons and ornaments from the barbarous tribes of the remote regions of Central Africa jewels, inlaid work in ivory, precious metals rich embroideries produced by the Arabian artists of Cairo a classified collection of the products of the valley of the Nile [illegible] 2,500 specimens of the cotton crops for the last eighty years [illegible] the prices brought in Alexandria and in Liverpool raw and refined sugar grains of all kinds hemp flax, doura, vetch sorghum lentils poppy seeds and maize all the woods of Egypt, in sections of trees [illegible] one side dates olives and other preserved fruit tobacco indigo, chemical preparations perfumery Arabian honey specimens of marble and building stones jeweled cimeters saddles of embroidered leather and mounted with gold agricultural implements of the most inconceivable patterns books for the blind and drawings by the pupils in the polytechnic school. By way of contrast will be shown, side by side, ancient papyrus and the modern newspaper hippopotamus hide and calf skin chibouk and nargileh and the Parisian cigarette, and European porcelain and ancient red pottery. This enumeration is not a complete one as there is also a world of curious things from Soudan, Darfour Abyssinia and Uganda. All will be arranged in their respective departments at the exhibition, labels will specify their names and the localities whence they were obtained and a large map of Egypt will be hung up for reference. The Khedive has appropriated 500,000 francs to defray the expenses of making the collection, transporting it to the country and paying the [illegible] all of whom are in this city. But that the time was too short after President Grant's invitation the Khedive would have had a palace erected on the Centennial grounds like the one he had at Vienna illustrating the architecture and domestic life of the land of the Pharaohs

The local monetary situation is unchanged and offers nothing new that is important. The month past was one in which transactions generally were limited to the supply of temporary wants as far as merchants and traders were concerned, and this was easily done with the liberal available means on hand at the several city banks aided by resources outside. The regular monthly collections are being made, and are generally reported quite as free as usual showing at least an average amount of money in general circulation. There are of course many instances where persons, who do a sort of "hand to mouth" business, are pressed to meet their liabilities but the rule we rather think, is a promptness in settlement quite encouraging to the trade interests of the city and State

Some drawbacks to business have been experienced in local circles since the year began as the heavy rainstorms making country travel except by rail, very inconvenient, the irregularity of ocean communication with San Francisco and the closing of the Upper Columbia by ice. The decline in the English wheat market has also tended to retard the breadstuff movement on this coast very materially and though exports have been quite as large as was anticipated the amount actually changing hands has not been as large most of the vessels loaded having been overdue when the month began and their cargoes purchased and awaiting their arrival. But few vessels have been taken in January, and the number now due is much less than it was a month ago. Without a rapid movement shall set in soon it may be regarded as certain that a very large proportion of the surplus yet in the State will be carried over into another harvest which may or may not be a profitable policy for the holders [illegible] effect upon general business is that it keeps so much capital out of circulation and gives a greater supply to the same demand another year. The quantity held over from the harvest of 1874 was much larger than the previous year, but was not as large as is promised this season, unless the future shall develop circumstances to create an active market very late in the season.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

Present Liverpool wheat market quotations compare with those at a corresponding date in former years as follows

	Av California	Oregon
1874	[illegible]	[illegible]
1875	9s 3d@9s 6d	9s 5d@10s 2d
1876	...10s 6d@10s 8d	10s 4d@10s 11d

The stocks at the end of each of the last three years in the Liverpool market are placed at the following figures,

		Wheat	Flour
		qrs	bbls	sacks
Dec 31,	1873	168 898	79 691	[illegible]
	1874	144 281	[illegible]	[illegible]
	1875	793 623	[illegible]	[illegible]

A comparison of the stocks in hand at the periods given will throw some light on the present depressed condition of the trade. Other grain [illegible] in the United Kingdom are reported as also largely overstocked though on the continent there is [illegible] a surplus and better prices are maintained
